

BEST OF BUDDIES

A FLURRY OF WORRY

Written by JEFF WHITE Illustrated by ROGÉRIO COELHO

This vacation Bible school inspired the Bible Buddy named Beacon. Beacon is a toucan. In God's creation, toucans have bright beaks that look big and heavy. Beacon reminds kids they don't need to carry big, heavy worries because Jesus rescues.

How cool is that?

Beacon the toucan is going to camp on the beach with his best friends. They'll have a campfire with marshmallows, make midnight sandcastles under the full moon, and fall asleep to the sound of the rolling waves. So much fun!

But Beacon is worried.

His backpack is full, but what if he runs out of marshmallows?

He stuffs a few extra marshmallows into his great big beak, just to be safe.

But Beacon is still worried.

“I’m not worried,” says Beacon.

“Just a little...concerned. What if I can’t find any shells on the beach?”

He stores a handful of shells in his beak, just in case. Lots of room in there!

But Beacon is still worried.

“I’m not worried. Just a tiny bit...bothered.
What if I get cold in the cool ocean breezes?”

He crams a thick wool hat and socks into his beak. And a scarf, too!

But Beacon is still worried.

“I’m not worried. Just a little...worked up. What if I get extra thirsty? I can’t drink the salty ocean water.”

Beacon slides a big bottle full of water into his beak—no, three water bottles—because every drop counts.

But Beacon is still worried.

“I’m not worried. Just a wee bit...bugged.
What if it gets too dark? What if the clouds cover the full moon and I can’t see?”

Beacon finds his biggest, brightest flashlight and puts it in his beak.
