

COMFORT FOR CHILDREN IN HARD TIMES

something SCARY
happened

Written by
DARBY A.
STRICKLAND

Illustrated by
CARLOTTA NOTARO

A whimsical illustration of a meadow. In the foreground, a green hillside is covered with grass and small white flowers. A large, stylized dandelion seed head is prominent on the left. In the middle ground, a lamb with a thick, curly white woolly coat and brown patches on its legs is running towards the right. The lamb has a blue and white plaid collar. The background is a bright, light blue sky filled with many dandelion seed heads and seeds, some of which are larger and more detailed than others. The overall style is soft and illustrative.

Miles was a happy little lamb.

He lived in a meadow and ate green grass and dandelions.

Sometimes he chased the dandelions instead of eating them.

Miles liked to play with his friends. They played hide-and-peek and soccer.

Miles was pretty good at the FINDING part...

... and really good at the KICKING part!

But one day something scary happened!

Miles was so scared that he didn't know what to do.

So he shut his eyes tight,
put his hooves over his ears,
and pretended that nothing
bad had happened.

