

Jesus' friends will live in heaven.

What is heaven like?

A glowing, ethereal hand emerges from the top, holding a large, textured sphere of red and orange. Below it, another glowing hand emerges from the bottom, holding a large, textured sphere of teal and blue. The background is a deep blue with a fine grid pattern and scattered white star-like specks. Two yellow banners with orange borders frame the central composition.

Jesus said that one day

heaven will be here.

When Jesus comes back to this world,
he will bring heaven with him.

The world will be perfect!

Nothing will get broken or go wrong.

We will be perfect.

There will be no arguing or hurting.

We will have new bodies.
