Before the first Easter,
a long time ago,
there was something that everyone wanted to know.

For they'd heard about Jesus and all he could do.
But who was he really?
None of them knew!

When he came to Jerusalem,
crowds filled the town -
and, to show their excitement,
laid cloaks on the ground.

Who was this man?

'Cos he looked like a king!
Could he be the one who would fix everything?

Hosanna!

Hosanna!

The King!

His friends thought he was!
But they soon felt confused...

... when later that week
they were sharing some food.
They'd all heard him say that he'd come down to save them -
but now he announced
someone there would betray him!

They looked at each other.
This couldn't be true!
But Jesus knew Judas had planned what he'd do.

Jesus held up some bread,
and he broke it to pieces.
“This is my body.”
He told them to eat it.

Then he picked up a cup,
and he passed that round too,
saying, “Here is my blood,
which is poured out for you.”

Who was this man?

What on earth had he said?

What did it mean,

he'd get broken like bread?

He is Jesus - the King! -
who, to show us his love, let his body get broken
and poured out his blood.

He told them he knew how his evening would end - alone and abandoned
by all of his friends.

Peter said,

No!

and insisted, "I'll stay!"
But Jesus was clear:
"You'll disown me today."

They went out to a garden.
Jesus was sad.

Alone, he knelt down,
and he prayed to his Dad.

Father, everything's possible
for someone like you.
Please take this away...
But what you want, I'll do.
